IMEC (Marie Cobel) with “Friends”
November 23, 1985

Session 172: Movie of life

Summary: Discussed aspective qualities. One should transcend the aspective qualities of intellect (the mind) and the emotional body in order to observe. When you observe, you become the true consciousness, the true being. Example of space time being a movie. Destiny is the movie has already been made, existing in this gigantic space time polarity. It is complete already. We observe it. We have free will to be able to identify with a character of focus on certain things in space time. There isn’t one ending; there are infinite endings. In creation, there is every probability.

Report by Jane Coleman